

Conflict Minerals Statement

To whom it may concern,

In response to your request regarding country of origin for Minerals and their Derivatives and the ongoing reporting of conflict materials please be advised as follows:

MPE Electronics Ltd provides a sub contract manufacturing service for customer designed products and does not directly get involved with the purchasing of any raw conflict materials used in any of the products or devices specified on customer Bills of Material.

MPE only purchases, normally through distributors, from manufacturers specified by our customers. Purchases are made from ISO approved and MPE approved companies through traceable routes. MPE has made every effort to obtain the information from our distributors who in turn have directed us to the manufacturers' websites.

MPE is therefore not able to confirm, sign or fill out forms or declarations that it receives from customers, this can only be done by the manufacturers themselves and as a result we would have to refer you to the statements on conflict materials that the manufacturers post on their websites.

MPE would therefore like to direct you to posted statements on the manufacturers' websites. Some manufacturer statements can also be found at: www.eciaonline.org

MPE expects distributors, in conjunction with manufacturers to only source materials from environmentally and socially responsible sources.
